

3 Steps to Improving Financial Performance for Emergency Medicine Group Practices

Every healthcare specialty has its own unique challenges with revenue cycle management. For Emergency Medicine (EM), it's often coding accuracy, contract management, and self-pay collections that are the most taxing. Our Revenue Cycle Management Services team has been helping EM specialty groups improve their financial performance for more than 30 years with a simple but proven 3-step plan:

1 We Analyze Your Current Performance

We benchmark your RCM performance against peers to gain a baseline, give context to your current situation, and set realistic expectations. Then, we'll forecast where you can anticipate seeing improvements, and what kind.

2 Our Team Helps to Improve Efficiency, Reimbursement, Collections, and Cash Flow

We implement a strategy that incorporates both technology and the services of highly skilled staff. From identifying and addressing the root cause of denials to leveraging certified emergency medicine coders and specially trained collections representatives, we offer a range of services that can be customized to your group's specific needs, and which can be used on an ongoing, periodic, or one-time basis.

3 We Offer Transparency

Our Reporting and Analytics let you track performance across the business, from denials and appeals management to A/R management to contract compliance. And we'll help you interpret our robust reports.

The key to improving your revenue cycle with outsourcing is to engage staff who are not only knowledgeable and skilled in RCM, but who also have specific expertise in Emergency Medicine. We've got you covered. You can learn more by visiting our website or by calling 866.817.3813.
